To assist purchasing departments, representative Canadiana was exhibited at the American Library Association Conference in Chicago, July 1963. The Canada Council agreed to pay half the cost provided the books "were chosen by an independent jury and that French-Canadian Publishers were asked to participate".

The selection of English-Canadian Books was made by Dr. Kaye Lamb, National Librarian, and Mr. H. C. Campbell, Chief Librarian of the Toronto Public Library.

IN THE REFERENCE SECTION OF THIS EXHIBIT, "THE CANADIAN WHO'S WHO" WAS THE ONLY WORK CHOSEN PRESENTING CONTEMPORARY CANADIAN BIOGRAPHY.

(A statistical breakdown of the contemporary biographical publishing field in Canada will be sent to anyone requesting it.)
